The kingdom of demons has lasted many years. Encased by a barrier, the beasts may not exit and wreak havoc upon the goodly folk of Cierta. Every ten years, the barrier weakens and an elite team of four must be sent to stop the demons from breaking it entirely. Along with this, they are tasked with finding and killing the elusive demon lord. Arkheld must find the paladin's strength within him, call out to his god, and guide his companions to victory.
