With Christmas only days away, Amy Barker awakes to find herself in a strange room. Inside is everything she needs to survive but one thing is missing: the key to get out. With no chance of escape, she uses the time to barricade herself in, events of the past two years going round and round in her head. The stalker who seemed to be nothing more than a fan... the friend who helped her so much... could she have done anything to change the outcome? Amy knows her captor and waits for the inevitable, the day when he will come to claim his prize. However, when he does, nothing is as she expects and her life is in even more danger than she feared. She has one last desperate plan for survival. But will it be enough?
