The nephew of wealthy French attaché, handsome Jean-Luc is the perfect kidnap victim. A very perfect victim. Taken prisoner by violent men, Jean-Luc has no idea what his fate will be. He's a good looking young man, and much loved by his powerful uncle, but these things are no defense. Instead, they give him more reasons to be afraid. His gorgeous body is in their hands.

Life or death may depend on co-operation. What really disturbs Jean-Luc is that he isn't hating captivity.

It's turning him on.
