Kaitlin has always dreamed of being a champion figure skater, and she's given up a lot to pursue her passion. But after having a totally uncharacteristic and decidedly NOT figure-skating-approved tantrum after getting her scores at a major competition she's dropped by her coach and prestigious skating club. When no other club in town will have her, she's forced to join the ridiculed and rundown Fallton Club, jokingly referred to as the Fall Down Club. At first Kaitlin thinks this is a complete disaster, but after meeting some of the other skaters, including a boy (who happens to have the most perfect hair she's ever seen) Kaitlin thinks it might actually not be so bad. But when she's tasked with learning a whole new program right before Regionals and figures out that almost all the other skaters target Fallton, she thinks joining the Fall Down Club may just be the second biggest mistake she's ever made.

In this figure skating themed debut, Kaitlin learns that when you fall down, you have to pick yourself up – even if it's in front of judges and a crowd
