Wild Bill Hickok is working for the law when he goes to Kinkaid County, Wyoming. Hundreds of head of prime longhorn cattle have been poisoned, and Bill has been sent by the Pinkerton Agency to get to the bottom of it. He doesn't expect to land smack in the middle of a range war, but that's exactly what happens. With the powerful Cattleman's Association on one side and land-grant settlers on the other, Wild Bill knows that before this is over he'd be testing his gun skills to the limit if he hopes to get out alive.
