Memories are what retain us.

And for Mia Fiqueen, it is the same. Feeling obligated, she accepts the offer to help Imran, a detective from the Public Bureau of Investigation, in finding her friend Zayn who has disappeared and is suspected of being a victim of serial kidnapping. But breadcrumbs of clues Zayn seemingly left behind within poems and memories they had once shared makes Mia doubt otherwise. As she searches for Zayn, Mia unconsciously sets off a plot to find the truth , not just about her missing friend but also about herself.
