Being a Gunner has been Sebena's life, until a life sign in an asteroid field changes everything. Sebena has spent her time in the Alliance using her accuracy to blow large rocks into tiny rocks suitable for refinement.

When she picks up a heat signature she has to pursue it, even if it means doing it on her own time. Finding a life pod is not really a surprise, but having it functioning and its occupant alive is quite the shock. Issul is the avatar of the planet Zeering and has been lost in the asteroid field for a century. Opening his eyes in the mining vessel, he sees his rescuer and both he and the world within him have a visceral reaction to her.
