Nathan Carter is trying to solve a real problem, homelessness in America. He has a great idea, offer them a tiny house that they have helped to build. The city is on board, and there is interest in the community. All should be on track for the Tiny Houses Charity to succeed, but there are a few problems. Ghosts. Not your garden variety bump-in-the-night creatures. No, that would be too easy. Nate hires contractor Kiki Pickles, who has a reputation for being able to work on haunted properties, to renovate the Gilded Age mansion on his property. Kiki brings her crew from the Hidden Meadow project, (Cid, Cid Garrett P.I. Series) which includes finishing carpenter Cid Garrett, who hopes that he can rid the property of these violent ghosts before someone gets seriously hurt. But time and ghosts wait for no man. Kiki has disappeared, and Cid finds his back is up against the wall. It's time to call in the big guns, in this case, an axe-carrying ghost named Murphy. Tiny Houses is the 3rd book of the Cid Garrett P.I. series (a spin-off the of Alexie Aaron's popular Haunted Series).
