A collection of short stories in the psychological horror genre. Stories include: Doors - While using a new hypnotherapy technique Dr. Rachel Everby learns that some doors ought to stay closed. Femme Fatale - They say women prefer messy homicides but they don't know Tina McGhee. Grier - Is she crazy or just crazy smart? Moseby - Do any of us really know who we are deep down? Robbery - Karma is a bitch and a bang. The Restaurant - Have you ever wanted to kill your boss? The Winnings - Lady luck is certainly fickle. 'Til Death - The people we trust aren't always who they seem to be. Traine Wreck - Kim Traine had wanted to die, until she thought she was going to. In Vertebrate - Technology is scary but sometimes our fear of it can make it even scarier.

Psychopathy - The horrors lurking in an abuse victim's mind can be even more terrifying than the abuse.
