A collection of eight intriguing, slightly askew short stories from the mind of Ethan Holmes, author of Earth's Blood, The Keystone and Live Your Life In A Crap Free Zone. The Box; A man gets a strange box and a bit more than he wished for. Spooked To Death; Two women decide to find out once and for all who is trashing their back yards. A Very Small Town; Life in a small town can seem quite desirable but it's not always what it seems to be. Two Paragraphs; A depressed writer meets a ragamuffin street urchin who claims her name is Death. Who's In Charge Here?; Norman Wright is having a difficult time maintaining control of his life after meeting Sarah. The Man Who Ate Popcorn; George is lonely, angry and addicted to popcorn. Have Some Cookies and Milk; Three boys who get bullied on a daily basis by Jake decide it's time for this to end.

Make and Model; Jeff and Marta are looking forward to the birth of their little girl but get a bit more than they were expecting.
