Coming 4/4/16 Leona Kane spent her whole life in a dark cloud. Growing up in a small town, she was often afraid to show her true colors. She saw things others would never believe and she had flat out refused the idea of marriage. The only person who ever knew the truth about Leona was Kamila Nox, her best friend since she had been a little girl. Kamila listened to Leona when she needed an ear and she provided her with a warmth no man ever could. Leona dated, but Kamila was always on her mind. She could share Kamila with no one though, because well... Kamila was dead. That wasn't going to stop Leona though. She was nearing thirty and her secrets were about to be revealed. One step forward and a hundred steps back was likely, but nothing would stop her. She'd be with Kamila, everyone else be damned.
