Fighter. I've always been a fighter, Even before I knew it was in my blood. I fought the demons of my past. I fought for my life. I fought for the future I wanted. Growing up in a foster home, after my father killed my mother, I fought for who I was, Who I could become. And now, it's what I do, what I am. My career is in the ring, taking down every opponent I face, Every enemy who threatens me.
