From a City of Depravity... The illegitimate daughter of a courtesan, Genevieve Lalande struggles to survive on the dangerous streets of Louis XIV's Paris. Desperate for a new life, she trades identities with a woman chosen to be a mail-order bride...

and is soon bound for the new French colony of Quebec.

...To a Savage Wilderness A rugged loner who prowls the frigid Canadian wilderness like a sensual lion, Andre Lefebvre is furious to learn he must wed in order to keep his fur-trading license. He selects the pale, seasick Genevieve, believing she can't possibly survive in such a harsh, unyielding land. ...And a Wild Love Yet as they embark on a perilous journey into soaring mountains and rushing rivers, neither Andre nor Genevieve can know their true destination: the unexplored regions of desire that await two wary hearts hiding secrets...and hungry for love.
